

T'ááhó Ájít'éigo

Throughout these various stages in growth and development for a child, teachings in the form of discipline is recognized and strongly taught and emphasized in the native term as 'na'nitin bee adiihwii'níí' and 't'ááhó ájít'éigo.' In English it could best be termed as "Self Determination. The basis of such teachings are like the pillars of life, and the teaching of such discipline starts at the conception stages of a child and commences throughout his/her life. A reason why this is important information is that when a person is respectively taught in this manner, the person should not have any difficulty living a life in an adult life. Generally speaking, the facts of life are emphatically taught and stressed especially at the puberty stage. A young woman will be taught the basic fundamentals of life in womanhood, motherhood and parenthood; involve in being a mother/parent, being a mother of the house, performer of duties around the home as in cooking, weaving, personal hygiene for family and a teacher as well.
